

The Language of Science

Grade Level: High School / College Intro

Objective: To understand how scientific terms are formed, identify prefixes, suffixes, and root words in science vocabulary, and use them correctly in context.

Section 1: Match the Scientific Prefix with Its Meaning

Instructions: Match the prefix to its correct meaning by dragging the correct meaning next to the prefix.

Prefix

Match to Meaning

1. bio-

a. heat

2. geo-

b. life

3. thermo-

c. earth

4. auto-

d. self

5. hydro-

e. water

The Language of Science

Grade Level: High School / College Intro

Objective: To understand how scientific terms are formed, identify prefixes, suffixes, and root words in science vocabulary, and use them correctly in context.

Section 2: Word Construction Challenge

Instructions: Form a scientific term using the given root, prefix, and suffix. Write your answer in the box.

Prefix	Root	Suffix	Your Word
bio-	-log-	-y	1. _____
micro-	-scop-	-e	2. _____
geo-	-therm-	-al	3. _____
hydro-	-phob-	-ic	4. _____

The Language of Science

Grade Level: High School / College Intro

Objective: To understand how scientific terms are formed, identify prefixes, suffixes, and root words in science vocabulary, and use them correctly in context.

Section 3: Fill in the Blank with the Correct Scientific Term

Instructions: Choose the most appropriate scientific term based on the context. Type your answer.

1. The study of life is called _____.
2. A device used to observe small objects is a _____.
3. A _____ reaction gives off heat.
4. A _____ organism can live without the help of others.
5. _____ energy comes from the heat within the Earth.

Section 4: Sentence Rewrite Challenge

Instructions: Replace the underlined everyday phrase with a correct scientific term formed using roots/prefixes/suffixes.

1. She's studying the process of life.
→ She's studying _____.
2. This plant hates being near water.
→ This plant is _____.
3. The machine uses earth heat for power.
→ The machine uses _____ energy.