

Learning to learn

1 Copy and complete the word map.

urban elderly active adult rural

2 Use the word map to copy and complete the sentences.

- The child is made up of adolescents and children under sixteen years old.
- The elderly is made up of people over sixteen years old and people under sixty-five years old.
- The adult is made up of people over sixty-five years old.
- The urban is made up of people who live in towns and cities.
- The rural is made up of people who live in villages.
- The active is made up of people who work and receive a salary, and people who are unemployed and looking for work.
- The inactive is made up of people who can't work, such as children and the elderly, and people who do voluntary work.

3 Copy and complete the sentences.

a The of a place is how many inhabitants there are in that area.

b The of a place are all the people who live there: children, adults and elderly people.

4 Copy and complete the information about a census.

A census is a survey of all the of a place and there's a census every years. A census is important because it includes everyone at the same time and asks everyone the same questions. This makes it easy to compare different parts of the country. The information from a census helps Governments plan for the inhabitants.

5 How does population increase and decrease? Copy and complete the chart.

Babies are born People die Emigration Immigration

Population increases	Population decreases

6 Name three things that a growing population needs.

A growing population needs ...

7 Name three things we can do to look after our planet.

To look after our planet we can ...

I know how to classify population.

I understand how populations change.

I know how a growing population can affect the Earth and its natural resources.

I know why a census is important.

