- Jin Ann : Bravo! Maths lesson is finally over! We're on cloud nine! Out in the open!
- Lim Teck : Miss Kong is good. She knows our class isn't interested in science so she brings us to the school garden. It's better than being in the science laboratory.
- Jin Ann : Look over there! What are Koon Li, Janet and Lisa doing?
(The boys go over.)
- Lim Teck : What are you doing?
- Koon Li : We are touching the mimosa pudica! Look, when we touch it, it closes.
- Jin Ann : Of course, mimosa pudica is known as 'touch-me-not'.
- Miss Kong : Class, come over here, please.
(The girls and boys go over)
- Janet : Oh! Worms! Scary!
- Miss Kong : Please observe carefully. What're the worms doing?
- Lisa : Teacher, the worms are eating some dead leaves.
(Miss Kong takes out a knife and cuts a worm into two parts.)
- Koon Li : Look! The worm is not dead! The two parts are moving!
(The bell rings.)
- Miss Kong : Lesson is over. Go back to class.
- Lim Teck : What are we studying next?
- Janet : History!
- Lim Teck : Ugh! Most boring!
