Read the text. Circle the correct answer.

Eid al-Fitr is a special celebration in Oman that marks the end of Ramadan. On this day, Omani families wake up early to join the Eid prayer at the mosque. After prayers, everyone puts on new clothes, which makes the day even more exciting. Children receive Eidi, which is money or gifts from their elders. Omanis cook delicious foods like shuwa. They cook it underground. People visit each other, sharing sweets, and enjoying traditional Omani coffee.
