The Male Reproductive Map System

_____ is also known as spermatozoon or the male reproductive cell.

The surgical operation to remove the foreskin from the penis is known as a _____.

_____ is the inability to reproduce.

_____ is a large gland surrounding the male urethra in front of the bladder.

The separation of tissue that allows part of the intestine to push into the abdominal wall near the top of the scrotum is known as a(n) _____.

The male reproductive fluid, _____, contains spermatozoa in suspension.

_____ is when the spermatic cord twists around the testicles.

Complete the concept map on the male reproductive system using terms and phrases from the electronic text

The Male Reproductive System Concept Map

LIVEWORKSHEETS