

Building a story

all ears	who _____
butterflies in your stomach	when possibly on a Saturday cold feet	where _____ fish out of water	what _____
nick of time	why _____
tongue-tied	how does the story end _____

Pronunciation and intonation

1. The bill came at the end of the meal.
2. When the cat's away, the mice will play.
3. I can already feel a chill in the air.
4. Don't spill the bean.
5. I won't be home till noon.
6. They found someone to fill the opening.
7. He could not sit still, he was so happy.
8. It takes skill to be a chef.
9. You must fulfill all the duties.
10. Their cottage is on top of that hill

For real

Technologies

Student A: You are going to spend 3 months in _____ (name of country) because of a partnership your company has established. You have heard some unpleasant things about this country, but no one you know has ever really been there. Student B has been to this country and knows a little about its culture. Tell him / her about what you have heard and ask him / her if it's true or not.

Student B: You have been to _____ (name of country) and have some family there. Your friend is going there for 3 months. He is afraid because he has heard some things about the people and culture there. Tell him what it is really like.

Parts of speech

When you are preparing to present your speech, make sure your notes are clear, understandable and logically organized, so you don't get lost while speaking. Remember that maintaining eye contact with your audience is of extreme importance and reading from your notes is not advisable – you should speak to your audience, not read from a piece of paper, although looking at your notes a few times is acceptable.

Debate

When you visit another country, it is your obligation to know about their local customs and language and to respect their culture.

Write the sentences

1. Why has he been blamed for what happened? (to be held responsible)

2. You should have believed this plan was possible to put in practice. (feasible)

3. What you said made her feel extremely embarrassed. (ashamed)

4. There must have been a mistake. I didn't say it. (misunderstanding)

5. She tried to explain it, but nobody would understand the subject. (to attempt)

Public
Speaking
Hints

Add humor to your talk whenever appropriate and possible. .