The Role of Computers Today

Computers are widely used and can be found in a variety of settings, including homes, offices, shops, hospitals, and schools. People rely on computers so heavily that many of them get frustrated and cannot work when computers are “down”. Nowadays, computers are so essential that they are utilised for everything from entertainment to navigation.

Computers of today are much quicker, cheaper, and smaller than those of the past. Users can work from a variety of settings thanks to notebook computers and hand-held Personal Data Assistants (PDAs). These computers' ability to connect to several networks allows users to access information from any location with greater ease and control over their time.

Future computers will be smaller and faster than current models. They may have “smart” or artificial intelligence features like expert intelligence, neural network pattern recognition, or natural language capabilities. These features will make it simpler for users to interface with computers and manage a large amount of data from fax, email, Internet, and phone sources. Wearable computers, DNA computers, virtual reality gadgets, and optical computers are just a few examples of the cutting-edge applications that are emerging today.

1. Computers today are used only in offices and schools.
2. When computers stop working, many people become frustrated and cannot work.
3. Notebook computers and PDAs allow users to work in many different places.
4. Future computers will be slower and bigger than current ones.
