

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

MUM: Hi Jack, how are you doing?

JACK: Hi Mum. We're OK. How are you and Dad?

MUM: We're fine. Your dad is (1) _____ his car in the garage and listening to music, and I'm studying Japanese.

JACK: (2) _____ are you studying Japanese?

MUM: Because we want to travel to Japan next year, and I want to learn some (3) _____.

JACK: Cool! I didn't know that.

MUM: What about you? What are you all doing?

JACK: Well, we decided to stay home (4) _____ today and relax, so that's what we are doing.

MUM: Aren't the children (5) _____ their homework?

JACK: No, they finished all their homework yesterday. Emily is watching TV in the living room and eating (6) _____.

MUM: What is she watching?

JACK: I'm not sure. I guess she's watching some (7) _____ because she is laughing.

MUM: What about Daniel?

JACK: He's in the kitchen (8) _____.

MUM: What is he cooking?

JACK: He's making a new pasta recipe he (9) _____ on the internet. I think he's cooking it with (10) _____ and chicken.

MUM: How nice to have a 12-year-old chef at home!

JACK: Yes, it's great that he loves (11) _____!

MUM: And what's Anna doing?

JACK: Anna is outside in the garden. She's (12) _____ some vegetables.

MUM: I didn't know she liked that.

JACK: She didn't, but she's watching a TV show about (13) _____ food and vegetable gardening these days, and she loves it.

MUM: That's nice. If you (14) _____ vegetables, Daniel can use them for his recipes.

JACK: Of course.

MUM: And what are you doing?

JACK: I'm having (15) _____ and watching some old recordings on my computer.

MUM: What (16) _____?

JACK: Videos of Emily and Daniel when they were little.

MUM: Oh. How cute!

JACK: Yes! It (17) _____ it was yesterday.

MUM: OK, Jack, have a fun day. I'm going back to learning (18) _____.

JACK: You too, mum. Bye!

MUM: Bye!
