Read the following fact file on life in Thailand. Decide whether the statements from 23 to 26 are True or False, and choose the correct answers to complete the statements in the questions 27 and 28. (1.5 pts)

LIFE IN THAILAND - THEN AND NOW

Family life in Thailand has changed significantly over the years. In the past, families were often large with several generations, close bonds and strong ties of support. Children usually lived with their parents even until they had a job. Members in these extended families relied on each other for emotional and financial support, and the importance of family unity was valued above all. Life was simpler, and many people focused on providing the necessities of life, while luxuries were rare. The community played an essential role in daily life, and families depended on each other to get around, share resources and face challenges together.

In recent years, as urbanisation has increased, it has become more common for young people to move away for work or education, which has led to more independent lifestyles. This shift has made family ties more fragile, and it is rare for children to live with their parents once they are adults. Modern families now invest in improving their living conditions, prioritising comfort and material goods. Plus, luxuries such as cars and electronics are more accessible. Over time, the government has also worked hard to improve families' access to education and healthcare.

23. Today, Thai families used to be smaller, with fewer generations living together.
24. Emotional and financial support was shared among members of these extended families.
25. People in the past preferred comforts and luxuries to necessities.
26. Modern families focus on better living conditions, choosing comfort and material things.

C. the popularity of adult children living with their parents D. more independent lifestyles
28. All of the following statements are mentioned in the fact file EXCEPT _____
