A fox fell into a well and couldn't get out. At some point, a thirsty goat came along. When it saw the fox in the well, it asked if the water was good to drink. "It's good," the fox replied. "It's the best water I've tasted in all my life." Why not come down and try it for yourself? The goat was so thirsty he didn't think about anything else. So he jumped into the well. Once he'd had enough, he looked around but couldn't see a way out. Then the fox said, "I've got a good

Once upon a time, there was a poor widow who had an only son named Jack. They were so poor that they didn't have anything except a cow. When the cow had grown too old, his mother sent Jack to the market to sell it. On the way to the market, Jack met a butcher who had some beautiful beans in his hand. The butcher told the boy that the beans were worth a lot of money and convinced the boy to sell the cow for the beans.

Jack was happy to bring them. When he told his mother about this, she was so angry that she threw the beans out of the window. When Jack woke up in the morning, he noticed the sun was shining into a pan in his room, but the rest of the room was quite dark and shady. So he hopped up to the window. What did he see? The beanstalk was growing quite close to Jack's window. He opened the window and jumped to the beanstalk, which looked like a big ladder. He climbed and climbed until he reached the sky. While he was looking around, he saw a very big castle. He was pretty blown away.

Jack then walked along the path leading to the castle. There was a woman with a very long tail at the door. Jack greeted her and asked for the giantess's mercy to give him breakfast, because he was really hungry. Although the giantess was initially reluctant, she eventually

Last weekend, I visited my pen pal's house. His Name is Anto. There were many activities I did there. In the morning, Anto and I had breakfast. We had traditional food. I liked it very much.

After breakfast, he took me to the garden behind his house. The garden was very big and beautiful. There is a big birdcage in the garden. There were many kinds of birds in that cage. I spent a long time feeding the birds. I also took pictures of those beautiful birds.

After visiting the bird cage, Anto and I went to the flower garden not far from his house. We rested, had lunch under a big tree, and watched butterflies flying above colorful flowers. In the afternoon, we swam in the pool in the backyard. It was so much fun. I really enjoyed my time with Anto.
