

My Worst Nightmare

Indefinite Pronouns

Complete the text with the correct indefinite pronouns.

I remember my worst nightmare ever as if it was yesterday. That day I went to bed a little late because I had to finish an essay for the following day at the university. I was sleeping when suddenly I woke up, then I noticed I couldn't move or talk. I had never experienced _____ like that before.

I was really scared, _____ in my body was wrong. I had trouble breathing, I was sweating and I still couldn't move. After some silence, _____ whispered _____ in my ear: "Don't worry, you're safe; I'll follow you _____ you go." I was so scared that I shouted for help, the same voice said "_____ can listen, it's just you and me."

After trying hard to move with no results, I saw _____ weird. _____ was looking at me from a window, it was like a shadow. _____ really made sense at that point, I was _____ else because my room doesn't have any windows. I closed my eyes again trying to ignore that strange noise. When I opened my eyes again I was back in my room. The shadow disappeared and _____ went back to normal. I could move and talk again. That nightmare is _____ I will never forget.