What is a Stock Rebate?

Introducing Brokers (IBs) offer rebates or cashback by returning a portion of the commission fees traders pay. This incentive helps attract new traders to stock brokers.

To receive a rebate, traders simply need to register through an IB's referral link or submit their trading account details to a recognized Introducing Broker.

How to Use the Stock Rebate Calculator?

To determine the exact rebate amount, enter your trading history details and IB's rebate information in the calculator as follows:

1. Rebate Type: Choose the rebate type based on the IB's policy (Money-based or Pip-based cashback);
2. Trading Instrument: Select a trading pair (USD-based) from 20+ major stocks like Apple, Amazon, Alphabet, and Tesla;
3. Base Currency: Choose the account's base currency from 24 available options, including USD, EUR, CHF, PLN, JPY, GBP, and TRY;
4. Rebate Rate: Enter the rebate rate per lot paid by the IB;
5. Number of Lots: Specify the trading volume for the selected stock;
6. Exchange Rate: Enter the conversion rate from USD to the deposit currency, manually or automatically;
7. Calculate Rebate: Click "Calculate" to get the rebate amount instantly;
8. Reset: Use the "Reset" button to return all boxes to their default values.

The image shows the TradingFinder Stock Rebate Calculator interface. It features a 'Rebate Type' section with radio buttons for 'Pips' (selected) and 'Money'. Below this are input fields for 'Currency Pair' (Microsoft), 'Deposit Currency' (USD), 'Rebate per Lot' (10), and 'Lots' (100). A 'USD/USD Price' field shows '1'. A blue 'Calculate' button is present. A 'Reset' button is also visible. The result section shows a 'Rebate amount' of '0.10 USD'. A purple circular logo with a stylized 'TF' is in the bottom right corner. Numbered callouts 1 through 8 point to various elements: 1 points to the 'Rebate Type' section, 2 to the 'Currency Pair' field, 3 to the 'Deposit Currency' field, 4 to the 'Rebate per Lot' field, 5 to the 'Lots' field, 6 to the 'USD/USD Price' field, 7 to the 'Calculate' button, and 8 to the 'Reset' button.
