

Instructions:

1. Read the paragraph below and fill in the blanks to change it from talking about one person ("She is") to a group of people ("We are").

REMEMBER:

"She is" → "We are"

"Her" → "Our"

"She" → "We"

Original Paragraph:

She is a student at a language school. She is very friendly and always helps her classmates. She is interested in learning English and studies every day. She is also good at drawing and often brings her sketchbook to class. She is happy when she learns something new. Sometimes, she is tired after school, but she is always excited to come back the next day. On the weekend, she is usually busy. She is a volunteer at a local library, where she is responsible for reading stories to children. She is very patient and enjoys helping others. She is also learning French, and she is trying to improve her pronunciation. Every evening, she is at home practicing with videos and repeating what she hears.

Your work:

_____ students at a language school. _____ very friendly and always help _____ classmates. _____ interested in learning English and study every day. _____ also good at drawing and often bring _____ sketchbooks to class. _____ happy when _____ learn something new. Sometimes, _____ tired after school, but _____ always excited to come back the next day. On the weekend, _____ usually busy. _____ volunteers at a local library, where _____ responsible for reading stories to children. _____ very patient and enjoy helping others. _____ also learning French, and _____ trying to improve _____ pronunciation. Every evening, _____ at home practicing with videos and repeating what _____ hear.

Teacher : Erij Mejrissi