Listen and read.

Pocahontas and John Smith under a tree. They about life in the city and the country.

John , "There a river in the city, and there lots of trees."

Pocahontas , "There a river here too. And there lots of trees. I the city and the country the same."

Suddenly, John a raccoon in the tree. It hungry! It down the tree and John's bread from his hand.

"No, the city and country the same," John. "We any greedy raccoons in the city!"
