

Strange Envelopes of Money Found in Northern England

Residents of Blackhall Colliery, England, have been finding mysterious of cash.

13 of these envelopes have been found since 2014, and the most recent one was reported to the on Monday. It is the fourth to be turned in this year. The envelopes are usually found in plain sight, and always contain £2000. A spokesperson for the police said that if no one tries to claim the envelopes for two weeks, they are to the people who found them. Police are currently searching for the source of these mysterious , but so far they have no explanation.