

Strange Envelopes of Money Found in Northern England

Residents of Blackhall Colliery, England, have been finding mysterious [redacted] of cash.

13 of these envelopes have been found since 2014, and the most recent one was reported to the [redacted] on Monday. It is the fourth to be turned in this year. The envelopes are usually found in plain sight, and always contain £2000. A spokesperson for the police [redacted] said that if no one tries to claim the envelopes for two weeks, they are [redacted] to the people who found them. Police are currently searching for the source of these mysterious [redacted], but so far they have no explanation.