

Salmon Cannon Attracts Global Attention

A contraption that launches salmon to their spawning has caught the attention of people across the globe. Video of the salmon cannon, developed by Whooshh Innovations, has gone viral on the . The video shows the fish swimming into a tube that propels them across a dam and them out on the other side. Inside the flexible tube, the fish are misted with water so they can keep during their journey. The cannons are an alternative to traditional fish that salmon have to jump up to bypass a dam or other obstruction.