First Picture Taken of Massive Black Hole

Astronomers have released the first-ever picture of a black hole. The picture was taken by a group of _____ telescopes _____ as the Event Horizon Telescope Project. The black hole was first photographed in 2017, but the photo was kept under wraps until now.

The _____ black hole, which is almost the size of our solar system, looks like a dark _____ with an orange ring around it. This is an important moment for astronomers because, until now, black holes were _____ theoretical.

LIVEWORKSHEETS