

21 Dead in Kenya Hotel Attack

At least 21 people are confirmed dead after a [redacted] attack at a luxury hotel [redacted] in Nairobi, Kenya this week. The attack began with a car bomb in the parking lot followed by a [redacted] bomber in the lobby. The complex then filled with gunfire and civilians spent hours hiding in offices and bathrooms until security forces came to their rescue. The [redacted] operation continued for 19 hours and resulted in the evacuation of about 700 people. A Somalia-based terrorist group named al-Shabab has claimed responsibility for the attack and cited President Trump's decision to recognize Jerusalem as the [redacted] of Israel as the cause.