

Many countries saw an increase in the population of groups below 15. What is the current effect? What are some potential future effects?