Uncle Tom has a difficult day!

My name's Katy. My Uncle Tom is an actor. He's not famous but last year he made a film with some very famous actors. It was very exciting. It was the best job he has ever had. In the film he was a bad man! He had to steal lots of money from a bank.

One day, Uncle Tom was in a park with some other actors and the camera men. He had to run across the grass there with his big bag of money. The film cameras were behind him. A policeman was in the street. He didn't see the cameras but he saw my uncle and shouted 'Stop!' He ran after my uncle and took him to the police station in his police car.

The policeman asked Uncle Tom lots of difficult questions about the bag of money. He didn't believe my uncle's answers. But then one of the famous actors from the film, called Fred Star, arrived to help. When Fred Star explained everything, the policeman believed Uncle Tom.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Ben finds his dinner!

Last summer, Emma went for a walk in the forest with her dog, Ben. It was a lovely day. She was throwing a ball and Ben was running after it when, suddenly, he saw a rabbit. The rabbit ran behind some trees and Ben followed it. Emma was afraid because there was a waterfall near the trees. She could hear it. 'Don't be naughty, Ben!' she shouted. 'Come back!'

But Ben didn't, and Emma couldn't find him anywhere. She ran to the waterfall. It was very noisy and there were lots of dangerous rocks in the river there. 'Oh no!' she thought. 'Ben has fallen in.' She looked into the water but she couldn't see him. Then someone whistled. 'Who's there?' Emma shouted.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

'Emma! It's me!' a boy answered. 'Who?' shouted Emma. 'It's Robert! Your best friend!' he laughed. 'I'm making lunch in a cave that I've found. Come and see!' Emma walked over the big rocks behind the waterfall very slowly and carefully and saw a big dark cave there. She went inside and saw Robert and Ben there. Robert was cooking on a fire and Ben was eating lots of sausages when she walked in.

'Now I understand!' laughed Emma. 'Mmm. Those look good. Have you got enough for me too?' 'Of course!' said Robert.

Jim breaks his leg!

Last week, Jim was playing volleyball at school with his friends when he fell over. 'I think my leg's broken!' he said. Mrs North, his teacher, phoned the hospital. They waited for the ambulance, but after ten minutes, it still wasn't there and Jim started crying. 'I'll take you in my car, Jim,' said his teacher.

She carried Jim carefully to the car and when they arrived at the hospital, the doctor said, 'Yes! I'm sorry! Your leg is broken, Jim. I'd like you to stay in the hospital until the weekend.'

Jim didn't mind because his friends came to visit him every evening. They brought him some chocolate and some DVDs and comics because the food tasted horrible and because Jim was very bored. On Friday afternoon, the doctor said, 'Well, you can go home now, but you mustn't do any sports.' Jim was sad about that. He loved sports but he understood. 'I know that's important,' he said.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

But Jim's parents wanted him to be happy so, that evening at home, Jim's mother smiled and said, 'Look Jim! I've made your favourite food – a pizza – and Dad's got a video of your favourite football team. You can watch it after dinner.' Jim laughed. 'Wow! Thanks Mum. Having a broken leg isn't too bad!' he said. 'Mmmm... I'm hungry!'
