Harry and Emma's funny dinner

Harry and his sister, Emma, decided to cook the dinner one evening because their mother was in bed. She had a very bad headache. "How about chocolate soup? Let's make that," said Emma. "You can't put chocolate in soup," laughed her brother. "Mum only puts in tomatoes or chicken and other things like that. Let's just make some cheese sandwiches and a chocolate cake." "OK," said Emma.

First, Harry made the sandwiches. "This is easy," he thought. "Now, we need flour and sugar for the cake, Harry," said his sister. "They're on the top shelf in the cupboard." "OK," said Harry. "I'll get some butter and chocolate too. Mum always puts those in the fridge." "All right," said Emma. "And bring some of the big brown eggs too, please. We need to put twelve in the cake."

Emma mixed everything together in a bowl and then put the cake in the cooker. The children were washing the floor in the kitchen when their father arrived home. "That smells great! What is it?" he said and opened the cooker to look inside. "A lovely chocolate cake!" said the children. "How many eggs did you use?" asked Dad. "Twelve," said Emma. Dad smiled. "It will taste great, I'm sure. Let's give it a name. How about 'Emma's Chocolate Egg cake'?" The children laughed and they all sat down to eat their dinner.

Daisy and the funny drink

Daisy Green lived in a flat in the city with her family. Last Sunday was a very hot day and the Green family decided to stay at home. Daisy didn't have anyone to play with. She asked her dad, but he had to wash the car. She didn't ask her mum, because she was in the living room with one of her friends.

Daisy thought, "Perhaps Anna will play with me." But her older sister was doing her homework in her bedroom. "Shh! Be quiet!" Anna said. "All right," Daisy whispered. "But you look hot. I'll get you a drink."

Daisy went downstairs to the kitchen. She took three things out of the fridge: the milk, a bottle of orange juice and some lemonade. It was difficult to choose, so Daisy put all three of them in one glass. The drink looked very strange, but Daisy took it upstairs and put it down carefully on Anna's desk.

"Have you finished your homework yet?" she asked. "Yes," said Anna. "Let's email some of our friends." "Great!" said Daisy. Then Anna picked up the drink and tasted it. "Daisy!" she laughed. "This drink is horrible! Let's go downstairs and ask Mum for some ice cream. Then we can play." "Good idea!" said Daisy.

The new computer

Tony and his mother bought a computer and took it home in the car. They carried the box into the dining room and put the new computer on the table.

"I can use the computer to study for university," said Tony's mother. "You and your sister can play on it, we can all write letters on it and you can use it for homework too."

"What shall we do on the computer first, Mum?" Tony asked. "We'll write a nice letter to your grandma. We can post it in town later. We must go to the shop at five o'clock to get some food for dinner," she answered.

It took a long time to write the letter because they had to learn a lot of things about the computer. Tony and his mother didn't look at the clock. When Tony's father and older sister came home, Tony and his mum were still working on the computer. It was six o'clock! "Hello! What's for dinner?" Tony's dad asked.

Tony's mother looked at the clock. It was too late to buy some chicken and salad from the shop because it closed at half past five. "We can have some bread and jam to eat this evening," Mum said. "There isn't anything else!"
