

Superlative Adjectives

Introduction

When we want to compare two things in English, we use comparative adjectives. An example of a comparative sentence is 'Tom is taller than Sam'. When we want to compare more than two things or one thing with others in its group, we use the superlative form of the adjective.

Study the table and examples below:

subject pronoun / noun	+ be	+ the	+ superlative adjective	+ ____.
I / you / Anna/she etc.	am / are / is	the	tallest	girl in the class.

To form a superlative sentence, the general rule is to add -est to the adjective and put the in front of the adjective.

Look at the image and example below:

- My dad is the tallest person in my family. (adjective = tall)

Ex 1: Complete the gaps with the superlative form of the adjective shown.

1. Tom is _____ boy in my class. [tall]
2. Algebra is _____ subject for me to study. [hard]
3. Antarctica is _____ place in the world. [cold]
4. The Nile is _____ river in the world. [long]

Ex 2: Write superlative sentences using the information shown.

1. the giraffe / animal in the world [tall] _____
2. the kitchen / place in the house [warm] _____
3. Burj Khalifa / building in the world [high] _____
4. the burger / item on the menu [cheap] _____

Types of adjectives: ➡

We simply add -est for many adjectives, but it isn't always so easy. When we form comparatives or superlatives, there are six types of adjectives we need to know about, with different rules for each.

1. adjectives with one syllable [tall]
2. adjectives ending with 'e' [nice]
3. adjectives ending consonant-vowel-consonant [big]
4. adjectives ending with 'y' [happy]
5. adjectives with two or more syllables [in-tell-i-gent]
6. irregular adjectives [good]

Forming superlatives with different types of adjectives:

Rule:	Adjective:	Superlative:
For adjectives with one syllable , add -est to make the superlative.	fast light clean	the fastest the lightest the cleanest  The cheetah is the fastest animal on land.
For adjectives ending with 'e' , add -st to make the superlative.	nice cute wide	the nicest the cutest the widest I think Labradors are the cutest of all dogs.
For adjectives ending consonant-vowel-consonant , double the consonant and add -est to make the superlative.	big hot fat	the biggest the hottest the fattest  Russia is the biggest country in the world.
For adjectives ending with 'y' , drop the 'y' and add -iest to make the superlative.	happy silly lonely	the happiest the silliest the loneliest My wedding day was the happiest day of my life.
For adjectives with two syllables or more (not ending in 'y'), use most before the adjective to make the superlative. Don't change the adjective!	modern interesting beautiful	the most modern the most interesting the most beautiful Paris is the most beautiful city in the world.
There are some irregular adjectives which have very different superlative forms. They are very common, so make sure you study them.	good bad far little many	the best the worst the furthest/farthest. the least the most  I got the best test results in the class today.

Ex 3: Cover the table and write the superlative forms of these adjectives.

- | | | | | | |

Additional considerations when making superlative sentences.

We can use possessive adjectives in place of 'the' in superlative sentences. The possessive adjectives are:

my / your / his / her / its / our / your / their

Look at the examples on the right.

- Jennifer is my best friend.
- That's their nicest dish.
- I think that's her most interesting book.
- Peter is my youngest child.

We often use 'in' and 'of' in superlative sentences. We use 'in' to talk about a group or place which contains the group. We use 'of' when we say the number of members in a group or with 'all' + the group.
