Grandmother Shares Fourth Thanksgiving with Man She Accidentally Texted

In 2016, Arizona grandmother Wanda Dench sent out texts to members of her _____ to invite them to Thanksgiving dinner. Instead of texting her grandson, however, she accidentally sent a _____ to then 17-year-old Jamal Hinton. While Dench soon realized she had _____ the wrong person, Hinton asked if he could come to the dinner anyway. The two posted a _____ on social media, which quickly went viral. Hinton and Dench have celebrated Thanksgiving together every year since then, and every year he has uploaded a new photo of the two of them together. Last _____ was the fourth Thanksgiving he spent with her family.
