

Auxiliary Verbs in Questions and Short Answers (be, do, have)

A. Forming Questions: Complete the questions using the correct auxiliary verb (be, do, have).

1. _____ you ever visited another country?
2. _____ he studying for the exam?
3. _____ they like pizza?
4. _____ she finished her homework yet?
5. _____ you coming to the party?

B. Negative Questions: Rewrite the sentences as negative questions.

1. You are tired. → _____?
2. She has seen that movie. → _____?
3. Marco told her about the project → _____?
4. They enjoy playing soccer. → _____?

C. Short Answers: Answer the questions using short answers.

1. Have you been to France? → _____
2. Didn't your parents visit the pyramids? → _____
3. Do you like reading? → _____
4. Is she your sister? → _____

D. Showing Surprise or Interest: Respond to the statements using a short question to show surprise.

1. Tom won the race! → _____?
2. She speaks five languages! → _____?
3. They moved to Canada! → _____?
4. We haven't taken the exam yet!! → _____?

E. Tag Questions: Complete the sentences with the correct tag question.

1. You live in New York, _____?
2. She hasn't arrived yet, _____?
3. We are good musicians, _____?
4. They went to the party, _____?

F. Agreement with So / Neither: Complete the sentences with so or neither.

1. I love chocolate. → _____!
2. I don't like spiders. → _____!
3. She has traveled a lot. → _____!
4. I am able to attend the party. → _____!

G. Emphasis: Rewrite the sentences using auxiliary verbs for emphasis.

1. She loves dancing. → She _____ love dancing!
2. He finished his homework. → He _____ finish his homework!
3. They enjoy swimming. → _____.
4. I won the math competition. → _____.

Complete the conversation with the correct auxiliary verbs (be, do, have)

Emma: Hey, Jake! You look tired. _____ you sleep well last night?

Jake: No, I _____. I stayed up late watching a movie.

Emma: Oh, you should get more rest! _____ it a horror movie?

Jake: Yes, it _____. And it was really scary! I couldn't sleep after that.

Emma: But _____ you afraid of horror movies?

Jake: I am, but I enjoy them anyway.

Emma: So _____ I. I love horror movies too!

Jake: That's cool! But my brother doesn't like them.

Emma: Neither _____ I. I mean, I don't like really violent ones.

Jake: That makes sense. You know, my sister watched the same movie last week.

Emma: _____ she? What did she think?

Jake: She liked it, but she couldn't sleep either.

Emma: Oh, so you both had a tough night. You didn't sleep much, _____ you?

Jake: No, I really didn't.

Emma: Well, at least it was a good movie!

Jake: Yeah! And guess what? My sister recommended another one.

Emma: She _____ recommend one to me as well. But I think you should say no this time!