Marcella's travel blog About New posts Archives

My sister and I have been travelling by land around Italy for 10 days. It's been great! We've visited lots of beautiful places. Now we're in Positano on the Amalfi Coast. We're staying in a lovely hotel next to the beach. I've been swimming in the sea and I've been walking in the mountains. However, it hasn't all been fun! Two days ago, we had an emergency. I'm OK, but I fell off my scooter and I broke my ankle. If I had listened to the tour guide, I wouldn't have had an accident.

I had an X-ray, and then I had an operation on my ankle. I had a cast put on it and the doctors told me to rest. While I was at the hospital, I had my neck and my wrist checked because they were painful, but the doctor said it's OK. Now I can't walk until my ankle gets better.

If I had more time, I would write more. I'll tell you more in my next blog.
