

TRANSITION SIGNAL IDENTIFICATION AND USE

Part A – Identification of Transition Signals

Instructions: Read the paragraph and write all the transition signals used.

"First of all, academic writing requires clarity and structure. In addition, writers need to support their arguments with evidence. However, many students find it difficult to write in an academic tone. For example, they may use informal expressions or copy directly from sources. Therefore, teachers often provide extra training to help them improve. Furthermore, using academic vocabulary correctly is essential. Finally, practice and feedback are essential to improve academic writing."

1.	5.
2.	6.
3.	7.
4.

Part B – Writing Practice

Instructions: Now write your own short paragraph (4–5 sentences) about why summaries are useful in education, and try to include at least 3 different transition signals from this list:

For example – In conclusion – Moreover – First – However – Because
