School cooking competition

Alice

Our class has just won a prize in a cooking competition – and we're going to be on the local TV news tonight. The judges liked our pizzas because they were delicious and we also made pasta with sauce and dessert for the children in our school for lunch yesterday. Our teacher is married to a chef who helped us with our main course. We're planning to bake some cakes tomorrow and sell them. We want to get enough money to pay for a school trip.

Our class teacher heard about the cooking competition on the local TV news and told us about it. We decided to enter and won second prize! We made rice and vegetables, lemonade and dessert for our parents. We turned the school hall into a restaurant for one evening. Our prize is a visit to the kitchens of a famous restaurant in our city – Gigi's. My cousin works there and she says the food is amazing.

The food our class made for the cooking competition was amazing. We baked a lot of cakes – chocolate, orange, lemon and honey. We also used vegetables from the school garden to make steak with vegetable salad for the class below us and everyone said it was fantastic. It was an interesting project and we learned a lot about food. We won third prize for our cakes and took them to a home for old people near our school.
