Task 2: Read and choose the correct the answer:

Life in the Future

In the future, our lives will be very different. Many people believe that we will have smart homes. These houses will use technology to help us every day. For example, lights will turn on when we enter the room, and fridges will tell us when we need to buy more food.

Robots will also become more common. They might help with cleaning, cooking, and even looking after old people. Students may not go to school every day. They will study online using computers or virtual reality glasses.

Transport will also change. People might travel in flying cars or super-fast trains. Some scientists say we will even go on holiday to the Moon!

Life in the future will be exciting, but it may also bring new problems. We will need to learn how to live with more machines around us and take care of the Earth at the same time.

Choose the best answer (A, B, or C):

1.What will homes be like in the future?

- A. Small and simple
- B. Full of new technology
- C. Made of wood

2.What can fridges in the future do?

- A. Cook dinner
- B. Tell stories
- C. Remind us to buy food

3.How might students study in the future?

- A. At school only
- B. Online using new tools
- C. With their parents

4.What is a possible future holiday place?

- A. The Moon
- B. The desert
- C. The jungle

5.What is one problem in the future mentioned in the text?

- A. Not enough food
- B. Too much homework
- C. Living with many machines

Task 3: Your English friend, Emma, has written you an email. Read her email and write a reply (about 60–80 words).

From: Emma

Subject: The Future

Hi,

At school, we are learning about the future! I think life in the future will be very exciting. I believe people will live in smart houses and use robots every day. What do you think life will be like in 100 years? Will we still go to school or work in offices?

Write and tell me your ideas!

Love,

Emma

Write an email to Emma. In your email, you should:

- Say what you think life will be like in 100 years
- Talk about how people will live, study, or work
- Ask Emma a question about her ideas
