1. Anna and the Lost Puppy

Hi, I'm Anna. One day, I was walking home from school when I heard a soft sound behind a tree. It was a little brown puppy, all alone and shaking. I looked around, but no one was there. I decided to take the puppy home. My parents were surprised, but they let me feed it and make a little bed. I also made a poster to find its owner.

The next day, a woman came to our house. She saw the poster and said the puppy was hers. She thanked me many times and gave me a small gift. I was a little sad to say goodbye, but I was happy the puppy went home.

I learned that helping others, even animals, can bring joy.

2. Tom and the Broken Window

Hi, I'm Tom. Last weekend, I was playing football with my friends near my house. I kicked the ball too hard, and it flew into my neighbor's window. The glass broke with a loud noise. I was very scared and didn't know what to do.

I told my parents what happened. They said I did the right thing by being honest. Together, we went to talk to the neighbor. I said sorry and promised to be more careful. My dad helped fix the window.

Now, I always check the place before playing. I learned that telling the truth is better than hiding mistakes.

3. Lily and the Lost Wallet

Hi, I'm Lily. One morning, I saw a wallet on the bench at the park. I opened it and saw many cards and some money. I didn't take anything. I gave it to the security guard nearby.

Later that day, a woman came to our school and asked to see me. She said the wallet was hers and she was very happy I returned it. She thanked me and told my teacher how honest I was.

Since then, I believe that doing the right thing always feels good.

4. Peter's Big Test

Hi, I'm Peter. Last week, I had a big math test. I studied hard every evening and practiced lots of problems. On the test day, my classmate tried to copy my answers, but I covered my paper.

I focused on doing my best. When we got the results, I got the highest score in class. My teacher praised me, and I felt really proud. The other student didn't do well and said he wished he had studied like me.

I learned that hard work is better than cheating.

5. Jenny and the New Girl

Hi, I'm Jenny. A new girl named Lucy came to our class last month. She looked shy and didn't talk to anyone. During break time, many students played together, but Lucy sat alone.

I decided to talk to her and invited her to play. She smiled and said yes. After that, we became friends. Now, Lucy plays with many classmates and laughs a lot.

I learned that being kind to others can make them feel welcome.
