Vietnam is no exception although there are some facets of life that still resemble the way of life of the twentieth century.

Living in Viet Nam today differs greatly from the lifestyle of 100 years ago. Moreover, Viet Nam, which was traditionally agrarian, is transforming into an entirely different country. While agriculture is still an important component of the Vietnamese economy, other enterprises are accounting for an increasing amount of economic activity.

However, along with the differences, similarities also exist. The people of Viet Nam have retained many of the characteristics of their forefathers. The Vietnamese people are as friendly today as they were in the past. This is best exemplified in the way they welcome foreigners to their unique country.
