Try something different!

Blogger Raul Randell wanted to do something different, so last week he tried three new classes.

I love sport and I do lots of exercise, but I can't dance! On Monday, I went to a salsa class with my friend Sandra – she's a fantastic dancer! It was really good exercise, but it was difficult, and I wasn't very good. I'm happy that I tried the class, but I'm not a dancer!

My daughter got a skateboard for her birthday and now she wants me to learn! I had a skateboard when I was young, but I can't remember how to use it. On Wednesday, we went to a skateboard class in the park near my house. There were only four of us, the teacher was great, and she showed us how to do lots of things. I loved it and I really want to go again next week!

The third class I tried was origami – a traditional Japanese paper art. At school, I wasn't very good at art, but I'd like to learn origami – I think it's an amazing skill. The class on Saturday was two hours and we made different things – a bird, a flower, a cat and a boat. My bird wasn't bad, but my flower was a disaster! But it was good to do something different and it made me feel happy.
