Young people talk about sports

Jack

Jack loves watching football. He goes to see his favourite team play every Saturday. The stadium is very large and can get very noisy with thousands of people shouting and singing. His team is very famous; they are the second best in the country. Sometimes his team play against another team and in another city. This means he has to travel by coach. He never travels on his own because his brother goes with him. Jack wants to be a football player when he finishes school.

Edward

Edward plays cricket for his village club every Saturday during the summer. His team play against teams from other villages and towns. Sometimes the cricket matches can take up to 6 hours to complete. He likes it because it is a nice slow game and the people who watch this game are usually very quiet. If it rains, he goes to his friend's house and plays cricket on the computer. He loves cricket so much that last year he went to India with two friends to watch the World Cricket Games.

Phil

Phil's favourite sport is tennis. He watches all the big games on television. He never goes to watch a game outside his city. He might watch a tennis match if it's near to his house. Every Tuesday and Thursday he plays tennis at school with his friends. Next week he will start having classes with a tennis coach because he wants to play better than his friends.

PART 3 Questions 14-18

For each question, choose the correct answer.

A successful singer

Carol is a singer in a pop group. Her story is unusual. Carol is in a group called Girls Together. "I started singing to other people in church when I was eight" she says. "I've always loved singing. I sing all the time at home. Actually, the only time I didn't sing was during my school lessons because my teachers would not have been happy."

When Carol was sixteen, she was in a singing competition on the TV. Her dream was to be a famous singer, like Madonna or Lady Gaga. "I hadn't thought about being in a group. I didn't have any friends who sang or played the guitar or drums," she says.

Carol got a big surprise during the competition because the music teachers wanted to put her in a group with three other girls. She told her parents she wasn't happy because no one would know her as a singer on her own. Carol's parents just wanted her to be happy.

Although Carol wanted to sing on her own, she spent some time with the other girls and saw that she could have lots of fun with them. So she decided to sing with them. The music teachers told her that she had made the most important decision of her life.

Now the group is famous and all the girls are making a lot of money. However, Carol loves singing in the group for other reasons. Carol says, "We have been to so many wonderful places and different countries. I miss my parents but the other girls are like my new family and this helps me not to feel sad."

- A. It would be better than singing on her own.
- B. She wouldn't be known as a solo singer.
- C. Her parents would be happier.

17. Why did Carol finally decide to join the group?
- A. Her teachers told her she had to.
- B. She liked the other girls in the group.
- C. She didn't think she was good enough on her own.

18. What does Carol say she likes most about being in the group?
- A. travelling
- B. the money
- C. being away from home
