Earth Hour

I have been in Peru for two weeks now. On March 31st I participated in the Earth Hour celebration. My friends invited me to go with them to the Main Square in Lima. There were lots of people carrying candles. All around the world people turned off the lights at 8.30 p.m. for one hour. This event started in Sydney (Australia) in 2007 indicating a global movement of positive change in environmental attitudes.
