A Dangerous Day

Last Saturday, Tom and his friends went hiking in the mountains. The weather was sunny in the morning, but in the afternoon, the sky became dark and it started to rain heavily. The ground was very wet and slippery.

While they were walking down, Tom suddenly fell on the rocks and hurt his leg. His friends were very worried because he couldn't stand up. Luckily, one of them had a phone and called the mountain rescue team.

After thirty minutes, two rescuers arrived. They gave Tom first aid and carried him on a special chair down the mountain. Finally, Tom was taken to hospital. The doctor said it was only a small injury, but he needed to rest for a few weeks.
