Great white sharks are the biggest ocean predators. They grow up to six meters long and can weigh more than 2,000 kilograms. They have strong tails and pointed fins, so they swim fast - about 24 kilometers per hour. They have approximately 3,000 teeth which they use to catch their prey. Great white sharks live in cool seas and oceans all over the world. They eat seals, fish, sea turtles, and they sometimes attack small whales. They don't eat humans! They are excellent hunters and well-camouflaged, so they can hide and wait for their prey. They are grey on top, so they are difficult to see on the rocky sea floor.
