

Text 3: Community Activities

Community activities play a vital role in bringing people together. Whether it's a clean-up day at a local park, a charity event, or a neighborhood gathering, these events help foster a sense of belonging. Many schools also encourage students to participate in community activities to teach them the importance of teamwork and responsibility. Not only do these activities benefit the community, but they also help individuals grow personally.

1. What is one benefit of participating in community activities?
 - a) It helps people make more money
 - b) It fosters a sense of belonging
 - c) It gives people free food
 - d) It is only for students
2. Why do schools encourage students to join community activities?
 - a) To keep them busy
 - b) To teach teamwork and responsibility
 - c) To improve their grades
 - d) To make friends
3. Which of the following is an example of a community activity mentioned in the text?
 - a) Studying for exams
 - b) Playing video games
 - c) Organizing a clean-up day
 - d) Watching TV
4. What do community activities help individuals do?
 - a) Get better jobs
 - b) Grow personally
 - c) Travel to new places
 - d) Earn more money
5. What is the main idea of the passage?
 - a) Community activities benefit both the community and individuals
 - b) Schools force students to join community activities
 - c) People are not interested in community activities anymore
 - d) Teamwork is not important in communities

Text 4: Hobbies

Many people have hobbies that they enjoy in their free time. Hobbies can range from sports to arts and crafts, providing a valuable outlet for creativity and relaxation. For instance, some individuals love to play musical instruments, while others may prefer painting or drawing as a way to express themselves artistically. Gardening has also gained popularity, allowing people to connect with nature while cultivating beautiful flowers or delicious vegetables. Reading is another favorite pastime for many, as it provides an escape into different worlds through books and stories. In addition to these activities, some people enjoy hobbies such as cooking, photography, or even hiking. Engaging in hobbies not only brings joy but also helps reduce stress and improve overall well-being. They provide opportunities to meet new people and develop new skills, enhancing personal growth. Moreover, hobbies can be a great way to spend weekends or evenings, allowing individuals to unwind from their busy lives. Whether participating in a sports league or attending a crafting workshop, hobbies enrich our lives, making them more enjoyable and fulfilling. Ultimately, dedicating time to hobbies is essential for maintaining a healthy work-life balance.

1. What types of hobbies are mentioned in the text?
 - A) Sports, cooking, and reading
 - B) Gardening, reading, and painting
 - C) Traveling, gaming, and gardening
 - D) Watching TV, shopping, and sleeping
2. Why are hobbies beneficial according to the text?
 - A) They help increase stress levels.
 - B) They allow for a busy schedule.
 - C) They improve overall well-being.
 - D) They can be expensive.
3. Which hobby allows people to connect with nature?
 - A) Playing musical instruments
 - B) Gardening
 - C) Painting

D) Reading

4. How can hobbies affect social interactions?
 - A) They isolate individuals.
 - B) They provide opportunities to meet new people.
 - C) They make people more competitive.
 - D) They take time away from friends.
5. What do people often do with their hobbies during weekends?
 - A) Ignore them
 - B) Spend time to relax and unwind
 - C) Share them on social media
 - D) Turn them into a job