

Mr. Rambler is flying to Sydney now. His plane                      on Tuesday 20.45. What a long journey!

Mr. Rambler has to catch a plane to Canberra. It an hour after this flight                      in Sydney. He's afraid afraid I can miss his plane to Canberra if his flight is not on time. He has to check in first and take care of his luggage.

It's his first trip to Australia. His old friend                      him in Canberra. They're going to take a guided tour to Uluru. And as it's a business trip too, He's going to write about Australian animals in danger – koalas, ostriches.

Mr. Rambler                      back in a week. He                      from Sydney again. His plane                      next Monday, at 10 o'clock in the morning.
