Rafflesia the Kind Public Bus

My name is Rafflesia. I am a public bus, a type of land transportation. To provide comfort for the public, I am equipped with a few facilities to make their journey a pleasant one.

I have comfortable seats to offer to my passengers. However, some of my passengers would not get any seats during peak hours. Hence, I am equipped with strap hangers to provide stability for passengers, who are standing. I have a stop button that helps my passengers tell the driver they want me to stop at their desired destinations. I enjoy being of service to them. I hope my passengers will be happy as I am.
