

Dinner Party

You're having a dinner party. Read about your six dinner guests. Then, plan your party.

Mary is from London, England. She plays guitar in a band. She is Sam's girlfriend. She doesn't eat meat.

Matias is from Buenos Aires, Argentina. He lives in Canada now. He teaches music at the University of Toronto. He doesn't eat seafood.

Paula is from São Paulo, Brazil. She studies art at the University of London. She likes soccer. She eats everything!

Benny is from the Dominican Republic. He speaks English and Spanish. He plays baseball. He loves spicy food.

Sam is from LA. He's an actor. His brother lives in South America. Sam loves Italian food.

Analyn is from the Philippines. She's an actress. She speaks English, Spanish, and Tagalog. She doesn't drink soda.

1. Think about your dinner guests' likes and dislikes. With a partner, make a menu.
2. Next, think about your dinner guests' jobs and interests. Using the photo, plan the seating at the table for each person. Include yourself and your partner at the table.

Get together with another pair or in front of the class. Explain your menu and table seating. Check the expressions below:

Here's our dinner menu. We're having . . .

Paula is in seat one. She's next to Benny. They both like sports. She's across from . . .

Menu:

Our dinner menu is...

Seating arrangement:

- Mary is in seat _____. She doesn't eat meat, so she can enjoy _____ and _____..
- Matías is in seat _____. He doesn't eat _____, so he can eat grilled chicken and salad.
- Paula is in seat _____. She eats everything, so she can sit anywhere. We put her next to _____ because they both like sports.
- Benny is in seat _____. He loves _____, so the _____ is/are for him.
- Sam is in seat _____. He loves _____, so he can enjoy the _____.
- Analý is in seat _____. She doesn't drink _____, so she drinks _____ and/or _____.

Connections between guests:

- Paula (seat) is next to Benny (seat) because they both like sports, so they can talk about soccer and baseball.

Below, you can write your menu and seating arrangement

Menu
Seating arrangement: