

conditional structures: unless, even if, in case (of)

Choose the best option (a–c) to complete each pair of sentences.

- 1 ..... you hurry up, you'll miss the bus.
Please don't call me ..... it's important.
a in case      b unless      c if
- 2 I'll never finish my work today ..... I don't take any breaks.
..... you work from home, it's good to keep to a routine.
a unless      b in case      c even if
- 3 Take a jumper with you ..... it gets cold.
Freya always turns her phone off at work ..... she gets distracted by messages.
a in case      b in case of      c if
- 4 ..... fire, leave the building immediately.
I brought my umbrella ..... rain.
a in case      b even if      c in case of Complete the second sentence so that it has the same meaning as the first. Use two or three words, including the word in brackets.

- 1 You should leave now, or you might miss the bus.
You should leave now in case you miss the bus. (case)
- 2 If there is an emergency, call this number.
Call this number in ..... emergency. (of)
- 3 Akira won't come if you don't invite her.
..... her, Akira won't come. (unless)
- 4 Alex might not want to help me, but I know he will.
Alex will help me ..... doesn't want to. (if)

 The sentences below have a mistake. Choose the best option to correct the mistake.

- 1 Unless they'll study a lot, they won't pass the exam.
a Even they    b Unless they    c If they'll
- 2 We'd miss the train in case we left now.
a in case of    b even    c even if
- 3 Don't use the lift in case a fire.
a in case of    b even if    c if
- 4 I'll write down the instructions unless you forget.
a even if    b in case of    c in case