In England, when the schoolchildren come to school, they first go to the cloakroom. They take off their coats and raincoats, their caps and hats, and then go to their classroom. Some of the students go to the laboratories and workshops where they learn physics, chemistry, and art. The school has modern classrooms and science labs with new equipment. Students also have music and computer lessons. When a student is on duty, he comes to school very early. He has to open all the windows, water the flowers, clean the blackboard, and arrange the tables, so everything is ready for the first lesson. At seven thirty the teacher comes into the room and the lesson begins. Students must wear uniforms every day and arrive at school on time. The school ends at half past four in the afternoon.
