For example, my family read books and watched movies together, which helped us feel better. Hobbies can also make you more interesting. When you gain skills and experiences, you can share them with others. I enjoy travelling and often talk about my trips with my classmates. Now, we even have a travel group in our class! Most importantly, hobbies help you develop your skills. If you spend time on your hobby, you will improve. My sister loves sewing, and after two years, she can now make beautiful clothes for dolls.
