Complete the words with the missing letters. Then, match the beginnings (A–C) with the endings (1–3) to make short stories about what people eat.

A. I like using fruit and vegetables in salads. I usually add some s p _ _ _ _ h, _ _ r _ o t s, c _ _ u m _ _ _ and tomatoes.

B. I like sandwiches. My favourite one has c h _ _ _ _ n, tomato and cheese. You can also make a sandwich with other meat like h _ _ or _ _ _ k e y. If you like fish, _ _ _ m o n and _ _ n a is a good choice. You can also add a v _ _ _ _ _ _ .

C. I like Chinese food and I often make it at home. I like it because you can use many vegetables in it: _ _ b b _ _ e, b r o _ _ _ _ _ _, b _ _ _ p _ _ _ _ _ and _ _ r n. I also often add m u _ _ _ _ _ m s.

1. Sometimes I put in fruit like p e _ _ _ _ s, p _ _ r _ or s t _ _ _ _ _ _ _ i e s to make them more interesting. I never add o _ _ _ n or olive oil because I don't like their taste.

2. If you eat meat, you can also add b e _ _, _ _ r k or c _ _ _ _ _ n. They taste good with all those vegetables. I don't often add p _ _ _ n _ because I don't really like seafood.

3. When I want to eat something sweet, I make it with peanut butter and r _ _ _ _ _ r r _ or b _ _ _ _ _ r r _ jam.
