Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions that follow.

In the future, cities will be designed to be more efficient and sustainable. The use of technology will play a significant role in achieving these goals. For example, autonomous vehicles and drones will be used for transportation and delivery of goods, reducing traffic congestion and pollution. Additionally, buildings will be constructed with energy-efficient materials and will be equipped with smart systems that optimize energy consumption.

Green spaces will also be an essential feature of future cities. Parks, gardens, and green roofs will not only provide recreational areas for residents but also help to reduce the urban heat island effect and improve air quality. Moreover, urban farming will be encouraged to promote local food production and reduce the need for transportation of goods.

Water management will also be a crucial aspect of future cities. Rainwater harvesting systems and permeable pavements will be implemented to reduce stormwater runoff and promote water conservation. Additionally, wastewater treatment plants will be designed to recycle water for non-potable uses.
