THE SEARCH FOR ACCEPTANCE

The song Perfect by the Canadian band Simple Plan explores the complex relationship between a son and his father. Through an engaging melody and emotional lyrics, it expresses feelings of inadequacy and the struggle for approval that many young people experience.

Released in 2002, the song quickly became a hit, as many teenagers related to the pressures of meeting family and social expectations.

Beyond capturing the pain of feeling misunderstood and rejected, Perfect also reflects the courage to acknowledge and express these emotions. It invites us to reflect on an important message:

You don't have to change who you are just to please others. True acceptance comes from embracing your imperfections, understanding yourself, and striving to become a better and happier person every day.

PEREECT – SIMPLE PLAN

Hey, dad, look at me
Think back and _____ to me
Did I grow up according to plan?
And do you _____ I'm wasting my time
Doing things I wanna do?
But it _____ when you disapprove all along

And now I try hard to _____
I just _____ make you proud
I'm never gonna be good enough for you
I can't _____ that I'm alright
And you can't change me

'Cause we lost it all
Nothing _____ forever
I'm sorry I can't be perfect
Now it's just too late
And we _____ go back
I'm sorry I can't be perfect

'I try not to think
About the _____ I feel inside
Did you know you _____ to be my hero?
All the days you spent with me
Now _____ so far away
And it feels like you don't _____ anymore
