Subject: online safety
...Last week, my school held a session on the subject of online safety, and it got me thinking. They talked about protecting personal information and the dangers of online interactions. How do you approach online safety? In your opinion, is a strong password more reliable than 2FA*? How do you decide which apps or information to download? ...I've just closed the final page of the book I got for my birthday, and the main character totally won me over...   *2FA – two-factor authentication
