TENSES PRACTICE!

You are going to read two texts. One using past simple for past events called: What I Did Last Summer 2025 and another to practice present continuous called: What I Am Doing This Summer 2026.
Read and complete the activities below:

WHAT I DID LAST SUMMER 2025

Last autumn (2024), I had a very busy season.

I visited my grandparents and stayed with them for two weeks. The weather was cold, so we watched movies and cooked hot meals together. I also studied a lot because I had important exams.

Every weekend, I walked in the park and enjoyed the autumn leaves. My best friend and I planned a relaxing ..... to the countryside, but we didn't ..... because it rained too much. Instead, we joined a guided ..... around the old town–it was fascinating to learn about the local history! The ..... back home by bus was short but fun; we listened to music all the way.

WHAT I AM DOING THIS SUMMER 2026

Now, this autumn (2026), things will be different.

I am living in a new apartment next month, and I am taking a photography course when I get there. The weather is warmer, so I am spending more time outside.

For now, I am ..... to work by train–it's a long ....., but I use the time to read or listen to podcasts. These days, I am running in the park and am practicing yoga. My best friend and I are preparing for a pleasure ..... to Canada, and we booked a ..... across different cities–we aren't staying home this time!
