Read the text and answer the questions (A, B, or C).

A STUDENT'S LIFE IN THE FUTURE

In the future, schools will look very different. Students won't have to go to a building every day. They'll study online from home using virtual classrooms and hologram teachers.

Lessons will be shorter, but students will do more project work. They'll work in international teams and communicate in English.

If a student doesn't understand something, they'll be able to ask an AI assistant for help. Homework will be checked automatically by special programs, and teachers will only give feedback.

However, not everything will be easier. If students don't focus during lessons, they won't learn much. And if they don't do their projects on time, the AI system will report them immediately!

Choose the correct answer.

1. In the future, students will
    A. study from home.   B. go to school every day.   C. have no teachers.

2. Lessons will be
    A. longer and harder.   B. shorter and more practical.   C. the same as now.

3. If students don't understand something, they will
    A. ask a teacher.   B. ask an AI assistant.   C. search online.

4. Homework will be
    A. done by computers.   B. checked automatically.   C. not necessary.

5. What will happen if students don't do their projects on time?
    A. The teacher will call their parents.
    B. The system will report them.
    C. Nothing – it's not a problem.
