

MAMMALS, BIRDS, REPTILES AMPHIBIANS AND FISH.

TEST

Complete and label the pictures using the words from the word banks

Birds are . They are born from . They have got and a to help them fly. They catch their food with their . They use their to eat their food. Their protect them from the cold and rain.

Fish breathe through their . Their bodies are covered with and they have got to help them swim.

When a frog is a baby we call it a .

All amphibians are . They lay eggs in the water but they don't look after them.

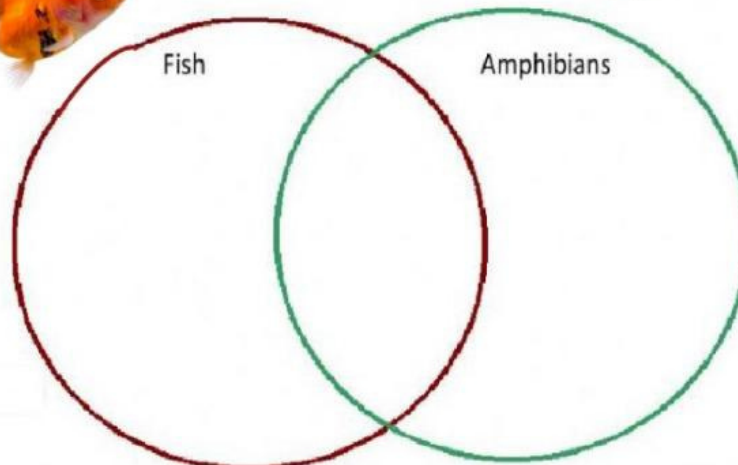

When they are , most amphibians live in the water and breathe through .

Adult amphibians have to breathe and they can also breathe through their when it is wet. They eat insects and spiders.

After they are born, young amphibians go through a number changes to become an adult. This transformation is called .

Compare fish and amphibians. Drag to the correct place

- have a backbone
- Develop lungs
- live on land and in water
- live under water
- have webbed feet
- cold-blooded animals
- lay eggs in water
- have bare and moist skin
- covered in scales

LIVEWORKSHEETS

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Reptiles

WORD BANK

warm eggs snakes lungs scales short turtles temperature

Reptiles are born from Their bodies are covered in hard
Reptiles have legs or no legs like
Some reptiles have a shell, like Cold blooded, that means their depends on their environment.
Reptiles breathe through their
They live in places.

Mammals

Mammals are because they have an internal skeleton.
Their babies grow inside their mother's womb, so they are and mothers nurse their young with Mammals breathe with According to what they eat:

They can be (They eat other animals)
 (They eat plants)
 (They eat plants and animals)

Drag to the correct place:

Seagull

Snake

Bat

Salamander

Frog

Sardine

Salmon

Toad

Whale

Alligator

Seal

Iguana

Ostrich

Shark

Penguin

MAMMALS	BIRDS	REPTILES	AMPHIBIANS	FISH